January 29 and 30, 2002

NC State Friends of the Library Sponsors Its Third University Authors Days

Join the Friends of the Library at North Carolina State University on January 29 and 30, 2002, for the third annual University Authors Days—a celebration of the works of NC State's multitalented authors. The two-day event highlights eleven university authors with readings, presentations, book sales, and book-signing opportunities. A special feature of this year's event is a reception to commemorate the opening of an library exhibit celebrating the life and career of Richard G. Walser, a member of the Department of English from 1946 through 1970 who became a leading advocate for literature and the arts in North Carolina. Kaye Gibbons, NCSU Libraries Author-in-Residence, hosts this reception on January 29 at 4:00 P.M.

Participating authors represent the Cooperative Extension Service; colleges of Veterinary Medicine and Education; Division of Multidisciplinary Studies; and the departments of English; foreign languages and literature; textile engineering, chemistry and science; music; and educational research, leadership, and counselor education. The speakers are Norman Miller, Mary Ann Frese Witt, Lucinda MacKethan, Gary N. Mock, William E. Dunstan, Curtis R. Craver Jr., Jim Neilson, Marvin Soroos, Toby Bost, Floyd W. Hayes III, Tracy Robinson, Anna V. Wilson, and Greg A. Lewbart.

University Authors Days will be held in the Assembly Room on the second floor of the East Wing in the D. H. Hill Library. There will be a presentation every hour from 2:00 to 7:00 P.M. each
