What is the Corporate Partners Program?

The NCSU Libraries is the gateway to knowledge for the NC State University community and its partners. As part of NC State University’s land-grant mission, the NCSU Libraries is proud to offer a Corporate Partners program for organizations based in North Carolina or directly associated with NC State.

Many outstanding businesses are supporting the NCSU Libraries with a corporate partner membership. They send an important message to their employees and their customers: they are pro-library, pro-community, and pro-information.

Benefits

- Access to the resources of the NCSU Libraries, including use of the D. H. Hill Library, the James B. Hunt Jr. Library, the Natural Resources Library, the Harrye B. Lyons Design Library, and the William Rand Kenan, Jr. Library of Veterinary Medicine.
- Borrowing privileges, which are available to researchers and other professionals for an annual fee of $50 for each permit.
- Recognition of the corporation in the Honor Roll of Donors.
- Upon request, a half-day workshop conducted by an NC State librarian, at your office or at the library, on how to use the Libraries’ resources.
- Day parking pass for the Dan Allen Parking Deck (the closest lot to the D. H. Hill Library). Advance notice of three working days is required.
- Invitations to special Friends of the Library events.

Your Support Makes a Difference

The generosity of our Friends and Corporate Partners truly does matter. Your unrestricted support enables the Libraries to fulfill all aspects of its mission, build an exceptional staff, be a leader among research libraries, and seize strategic opportunities.
