The Pulse Dress
Let me introduce you to the Pulse Dress. McNeil, a “fusion designer” in her master’s thesis at NC State, has conjured a garment that would not otherwise be available. As a graduate student, McNeil learned how to create interactive electronics that would shine by the implementation of solar technology and hot-plate conductive materials. Through the computer, pulsed lights and electronic textiles, the wearers have a design component. This special competitive advantage. Each event will include a wine tote. Contact 919-515-2841 or friends_of_the_library@ncsu.edu to register.
